51st day — 314 days follow

I'm am got up 5.45 to get bkfst for Richard who left at 7. No sign of M.F.S. so I put coffee in thermos & went to get dressed. He came in to see me. Very calm, cold, dignified. Slept for first time in years & woke up sane. A terrible thing to regain sanity after years of insanity. Everything is lies - No one is dead. Mike Sullivan isn't dead. Mgt isn't dead. Bell Dwyer isn't Mrs. Dwyer. Why should he be alive. A whole lot about what a wretch he is - a mental pervert - a horrible creature - a moron. The whole thing began with his marriage. His father in law wept at wedding & that was sign enough. He is the "Last Hurrah" and an O'Connor wrote that book. Sat in train with Sue & she couldn't be near mental pervert. Sons - he has none "Your sister had 3 sons but they are not mine" -

Wants to commit suicide - throw himself in front of truck. Can't do so wants me to take him as phlx. afrd. Or sent back to Barnes where he was sent as a boy for hitting his mother. He didn't - Again Horrible people neglected abused. Brothers never spoke to him. Sister Kate's husband crooked deal. Borrowed $50 and didn't pay it back. Toast master & insults.

A very stormy day. Skeleton at Hale House at 4 I.I. deserted at that time because ball. Miss Walter was skeleton and very sorry for herself indeed.

I went home on 4.53 - No Maude. Was ball for me. Made tea for M.F.S and he seems fairly normal when M.R.S called up. She talked for hours - Thanked me for not telling T.K.T. Very insulting. Priest - Mother M. and wild talk about her make. I finally had to tell her I hadn't eaten. It was past nine when I started to eat.

Mrs. Dexter called again re Russian report

70th day — 295 days follow

Dear Miss O'Connor:

Thank you very much for the material which you sent to me and Mr. Fuel. I have read it all with interest. One of the topics which, I feel, still needs to have consideration by the Committee is that of vocational counselling and employment

It is very unfortunate that Mrs. Gardiner has been ill and unable to attend the meetings, as the Committee was appointed largely due to her interest. It looks, now, however, as if there will not be another meeting until April by which time I hope she will be well enough to attend -

We are endeavouring to put some material in the English Classes together for our Information, Referral Service and for others, if they desire it, therefore, the literature you sent us will be useful.

Sincerely yours

Nell's third anniversary

And must you go in Summer time,
summer sweet?
O love, how can you contemplate the tomb
When lilies blow and roses are in bloom?
See in the meadows little lambkins
bleat
And singing grasshoppers their psalm repeat;
The gorgeous red bird ruffs his crested plume;
The rainbow's arch diverts destruction's doom
And just to think of death is indiscreet.

Went in to Boston for the Monday Lunch
but didn't go as I felt so punk.
Shopped, ate and came home early

Not that you ever—
O love inflexible, O militant forgiveness,
I know
You kept no books against me! In my own hand
Are written down the sum and the crude items of my inadequacy.
It is only that there are moments when for the sake of a little quiet in the brawling mind I must search out
Recorded in my favor
One princely gift:
The most I ever did for you was to outlive
you.
But that is much.

"The Russian intervention provoked the indignation of the entire world.... I trust I am right in saying: it has hardly ever happened in the history of the world that a nation's fight for freedom excited greater sympathy than ours. We fought by ourselves, cut off from the world.

"You know your life is all right, you know it NOW don't you? And you trust God utterly and don't mind things being weird and unaccountable, do you. Because you know all about it and will make it all right in the end. All crooked things will go right and the word will come into the riddle, and the key into the puzzle, and we shall be so delighted to think that it was right all along and that we trusted HIM when things were darkest and most incomprehensible.

24 Rainless Days Here During June

June was the ideal vacation month, with temperatures averaging four degrees higher than normal and a total of 24 rainless days.

Mean temperature for the month was 70.3 degrees, exactly four degrees higher than the 73-year average June mean of 66.3 degrees. It was the warmest June since 1949 and the fourth warmest since records were first maintained here in 1885.

Perfect for vacationers, the month was far from ideal for the farmers. Only 2.24 inches of rain fell here, compared with an average June rainfall of 3.16 inches. Of the 2.24 inches, 1.65 fell in a period of several hours on the 19th, breaking the worst heat spell of the month, but running off before it could do the dry ground much good.

According to official U. S. Weather Bureau statistics compiled and maintained at the Essex Company, the mercury registered 80 degrees or above from June 10 to the end of the month, except on the 26th, when it rose only to 66 degrees during the day.

Hottest spell was from the 14th to the 19th. On those five days, the temperature was 90 degrees or over, with a high for the month of 96 degrees reached on the 15th. Many of the nights during the month were cool, with thermometer readings in the 50's and 60's, but a long spell of humidity intensified any warmth present.

The spring months of April, May and June have not been exceptionally dry, at least according to statistics. A total of 7.20 inches of rain has fallen, some 2½ inches less than normal, but much of the rainfall has been in sudden downpours, coming after long, dry spells.

Driest spring Lawrence ever experienced was in the year 1911, when only 3.71 inches of rain fell in the three-month period. As recently as 1950, only 4.75 inches fell in that period.

Seven days of the month were clear, 12 partly cloudy and the remainder totally cloudy. Prevailing winds were from the southwest.

Life tries the work & education "of what sort it is". If it stands the test it is more beautiful than before, its colors are fixed. If it breaks — and some will mentally break in the trial — the Catholic education has left in the soul a way to recovery.

Most of us grow old without too much protest. We stop dreaming, we expect less and less. We cut ourselves down to fit our smaller years — and people's smaller opinions of us. We become what we were going to be, and there's nothing more to watch for. — Age, then, is no disease for us but a sort of mild boredom from which we eventually die.

Summer Second Driest In 73 Years Of

MILTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—This summer was the second driest in 73 years of weather recording at the Harvard University Blue Hill Meteorological Observatory, the observatory said today.

During a three-month period precipitation was only 30 per cent of normal. A coastal storm on Aug. 24-25, in which 1.03 inches of rain fell, kept intact the record for dryness set in 1949.

However, this summer broke the record for a long-period drought before the end of August. Considering drought as a period with less than 30 per cent of normal rainfall, the 101st day of the drought was reached on Aug. 24.

Temperatures during the three-month period averaged 1.7 degrees above normal and there were nine days on which the thermometer climbed above the 90 degree mark. This compared with a normal of four such days.

"We seem so frightened today of being alone, that we never let it happen. Even if families and friends and movies should fail, there is still the radio and television to fill up the void. Women, once lonely, can do their housework while soap-opera heroes at their side. Even day-dreaming was more creative than this, it demanded something of oneself and it fed the inner life. Now instead of planting our solitude with dream blossoms, we choke the space with continuous music, chatter and companionship to which we do not even listen. When the noise stops there is no inner music to take its place. We must learn to be alone and enjoy ourselves"
